

Louise Ann (LouAnn) Flick, a beloved mother, wife, and friend to many, passed away after a courageous battle with a form of ovarian cancer in December 2014. Nourishing others was truly a way of life for LouAnn, whether it was through her work as a Registered Dietitian, the delicious food she cooked with love for her friends and family, her contagious smile and laugh, or her comforting and empathetic words and prayers.

In June 2018, her family created Nourishing Recovery: The LouAnn Flick Memorial Fund, maintained by the Meadville Medical Center Foundation. As it is often not covered by insurance, the fund supports patients undergoing treatment at the Yolanda G. Barco Oncology Institute who are seeking nutritional counseling with a Registered Dietitian through the Center for Community Wellness. Proper nutrition is a key ingredient in the treatment process for cancer patients and due to side effects, one-on-one counseling is often needed to ensure the patient is getting the nutrients they need to heal.

In thinking about how to raise funds to support Nourishing Recovery and the patients who depend on it for access to nutritional counseling, we combined two of LouAnn's biggest loves - food and fellowship. This resulted in the creation of the Meadville Food Truck Festival, a first of its kind event in the area. The festival will be held on Saturday, June 20 from 11 a.m. - 6 p.m. in the parking lot outside Vernon Place. Last year's wildly successful event drew over 3,000 people from all over the region and we are confident the event will grow to attract an even larger audience in 2020.
